OBJECTIVE:

I am an ambitious and energetic young man looking for full time employment with your company. My past experiences have allowed me to learn the complex details of how different businesses operate, how to maintain customer satisfaction, how to problem solve and how to manage my work time efficiently and effectively. I am a positive, trustworthy, reliable worker who can offer both dedication and energy to your work place.

QUALIFICATIONS:

I have participated in several graphic design projects that have allowed me to learn and understand how to follow and meet client requirements, work on a team, develop creative solutions of graphic design as well as learn and understand the various techniques, relationships, and roles of the graphic designer. Also, due to my recent training I am qualified and very familiar with using various software packages such as: Adobe Photoshop and Illustrator, Flash, Dreamweaver, Encore, After Effects, Autodesk 3D Max, Corel Word Perfect, and the Microsoft Office Suite. I also have strong computer related skills such as coding with PHP, XHTML, JavaScript, Actionscript, and building web pages with text editors. I also have experience working with After Effects Expressions.

EXPERIENCE AND SKILLS:

Through my training and previous experience I have various job related skills. These include, but are not limited to:

- Flash Animation and Scripting
- PHP programming
- SQL databases and content management
- Web development using XHTML, JavaScript, and CSS
- 3D animation using Autodesk 3d Max
- Video editing using Adobe After Effects
- Digital Imaging and Vector Graphic editing using Adobe Illustrator and Adobe Photoshop
- Multimedia and Graphic Design processes
- Multimedia, marketing and business management
- Project design and business client relationships

In collaboration with Fanshawe College and EK3, a media company in London, I worked to develop a complete marketing campaign for a specific product. As part of the program requirements we worked as a small group to present a professional and effective advertisement campaign for one of their products. The project involved the creation of a website, applications, movies, posters and the advertisements as well as a formal presentation of our results to EK3 at the end. Through this experience I learned new communication skills, how to work cooperatively within a group, organization skills, conceptualizing creative methods and ideas as well as various researching skills. This was a competitive project in which we had to display our originality as well as determine how to successfully reach out to our target market.

I worked on a proposal for digital billboards for the city of London, Ontario as part of my Fanshawe College program. I, along with five other individuals, are in the process of filming the locations for the billboards and creating 3D CAD's of how they would look and super-imposing the video clip examples to give a thorough vision of the end result. This project has provided me with the experience with working within a team for a client, proposing creative solutions and participating in an active hands-on project.
